this contributed volume considers the emergence of coworking as centered in labor issues more specifically its chapters consider it as a coping mechanism in the worldwide rise of independent modes of work i e self employment that leaves more and more workers exposed to precarity as they must organize and manage their own labor grounded in this perspective this volume aims to understand the transformative social and political potentials emerging through coworking as a social and spatial practice there is a distinct lack of discussion within coworking research on the emancipatory potentials of coworking and if it is discussed more cautionary views prevail highlighting the ambivalence of coworking spaces both as a space of alternative economic practices and as integrated into market economies the aims of this collection are twofold first it aims to make visible the plurality of existing practices around shared resources in coworking and the assemblages of human and non human actors as agents of change associated with coworking and the re organization of work and labor power and second it aims to develop a more emancipatory narrative for coworking and the role of coworking spaces for workers but also the different spatial contexts in which these spaces are situated a narrative that does not emphasize entrepreneurship or coworking as the epitome of the neoliberal entrepreneurial self as in the dominant interpretations in the current research but rather one that centers coworking in the creation of meaningful careful social relationships supporting empathy and an ethics that recognizes mutual interdependencies and builds a foundation for social change so it is about alternative narratives emancipation politics and the wider social role that coworking spaces might play in neighborhoods cities or beyond because they are crucial contexts for the formation and maintenance of social relations with this specific direction this collection aims to bring coworking research into a fruitful dialog with other research fields such as sociology of work feminist perspectives on care alternative and diverse economies post capitalist transformation critical geography positioning coworking within a range of progressive alternatives in the articulation of economic and social relationships the digitalization of work processes and the generalization of it are creating unprecedented opportunities an increasing part of the workforce is experimenting with new forms of work as freelancers self employed or highly skilled employees with greater autonomy international in scope this book comprehensively explores these new models of work mobility and life trajectories and the increasing role of non metropolitan coworking spaces the digital and increasingly digitised world is shaped by the interplay of new technological opportunities and ubiquitous societal trends both lead to drastic changes facing artificial intelligence ai cryptocurrencies and block chain technologies internet of things technology based surveillance and other disruptive innovations these developments facilitate the rise of the sharing economy and open for a variety of new entrepreneurial opportunities that businesses can take up the novel entrepreneurial opportunities however imply a paradigmatic shift in the understanding of entrepreneurship this book combines digital entrepreneurship with the sharing economy it presents cutting edge research for scholars and practitioners interested in either one of the topics digital entrepreneurship or sharing economy or their connection the book addresses three major ways to become entrepreneurial in the sharing economy digital entrepreneurship through creating novel sharing economy platforms technology entrepreneurship through the exploitation of sharing economy platforms and business model innovation or business model change influenced by the sharing economy the book also highlights governance questions on digital entrepreneurship in the sharing economy which are highly relevant for businesses the economy and society the book will be of interested to researchers academics and students in the field of business and entrepreneurship with a special focus on digital entrepreneurship

although there have been considerable technological advances over the past decade particularly in terms of mobile applications much remains unknown about their effect on societal progress this book focuses on how inequality and entrepreneurship are both by products of technological change the book provides insights into how society has shifted from consumer division to human centricity and helps readers gain a better understanding of the positive and negative effects of entrepreneurship
